Gravity (from Latin gravitas, meaning 'weight'), or gravitation, is a natural phenomenon by which all things with mass or energy—including planets, stars, galaxies, and even light—are brought toward (or gravitate toward) one another. On Earth, gravity gives weight to physical objects, and the Moon's gravity causes the ocean tides. The gravitational attraction of the original gaseous matter ...

An inertial frame of reference in classical physics and special relativity is a frame of reference in which a body with zero net force acting upon it is not accelerating; that is, such a body is at rest or is moving at a constant speed in a straight line. In analytical terms, it is a frame of reference that describes time and space homogeneously, isotropically, and in a time-independent manner.

El movimiento armónico simple (M.A.S.), también denominado movimiento vibratorio armónico simple (m.v.a.s.), es un movimiento periódico, y vibratorio en ausencia de fricción, producido por la acción de una fuerza recuperadora que es directamente proporcional a la posición, y que queda descrito en función del tiempo por una función trigonométrica (seno o coseno).

Movimiento rectilíneo en mecánica clásica. En el movimiento rectilíneo, la trayectoria que describe el móvil es una línea recta. Eso permite un tratamiento más simple del problema, ya que al ser constante la dirección puede plantearse el problema del movimiento mediante funciones escalares de una sola variable.
